STANDING OUT FROM THE CROWD - THE RADIUS LAW DIFFERENCE

We're here to do more than just complete your property transaction. Our experienced team will carefully consider your matter to identify opportunities that may not have been explored. If value can be added with the input of other professionals then rest assured, we'll know where to go and providing you with access to our professional network is just part of our service.

Of course, our services will always be delivered in the Radius way – making the complex simple.

Here's a few examples of how we have helped our clients reap benefits that otherwise would have been lost:

Example 1

Whilst acting for the Buyers of a large residence in a rural setting, we decided to pay the site a visit ourselves. During this visit we identified that the property included two self-contained flats which had previously been used as holiday lets – providing our clients with potential stamp duty relief. We connected our client with an expert tax adviser who was able to confirm our advice and provide a saving to our client of more than £20,000.

Example 2

Whilst acting for a developer purchasing a commercial property, we identified that the property was the sole asset of a limited company. On our advice our client restructured the deal to buy the share capital of the company, rather than only the property. This resulted in a substantial stamp duty saving and due to the apportioning of equity and debt, our client was also able to benefit from existing losses and expenses within the company structure.

Example 3

Whilst acting for a seller of a building located in a semi-rural area, we were presented with a bit of a challenge! The property had a complicated history involving several uses over the years, but none of which conclusively proved its use as a residential dwelling. With this knowledge, the building appeared to be unsellable or at least worth a pitiful price. Reaching out to our network of planning professionals, we were able to identify the need to build a robust case of established use as a residential dwelling for our client. This enabled the property to be sold at full market value.

Example 4

A lady approached our team having been let down by three previous solicitors dealing with her case. Despite having been granted life tenancy of her home, our client was being harassed by the freeholders of her house who wanted her to vacate. She wished to buy a property of her own. We discovered that the property was held in the name of a particular company that had been struck off at Companies House. With no legal owner, the property was passed to the crown as an ownerless property (otherwise known as Bona Vacantia). This meant that the property could be sold to the life tenant at a heavily reduced price.
