STANDING OUT FROM THE CROWD - RADIUS LAW DIFFERENCE

We're here to do more than just complete your property transaction. Our experienced team will carefully consider your matter to identify opportunities that may not have been explored. If value can be added with the input of other professionals then rest assured, we'll know where to go and providing you with access to our professional network is just part of our service.

Of course, our services will always be delivered in the Radius way – making the complex simple.

Here's a few examples of how we have helped our clients reap benefits that otherwise would have been lost:

Example 1

Whilst acting for the Buyers of a large residence in a rural setting, we decided to pay the site a visit ourselves. During this visit we identified that the property included two self-contained flats which had previously been used as holiday lets – providing our clients with potential stamp duty relief. We connected our clients with an expert tax adviser who was able to confirm our advice and provide a saving to our clients of more than £20,000.

Example 2

Whilst acting for a developer purchasing a commercial property, we identified that the property was the sole asset of a limited company. On our advice our client restructured the deal to buy the share capital of the company, rather than only the property. This resulted in a substantial stamp duty saving and due to the apportioning of equity and debt, our client was also able to benefit from existing losses and expenses within the company structure.

Example 3

Whilst acting for a seller of a building located in a semi-rural area, we were presented with a bit of a challenge! The property had a complicated history involving several uses over the years, but none of which conclusively proved its use as a residential dwelling. With this knowledge, the building appeared to be unsellable or at least worth a pitiful price. Reaching out to our network of planning professionals, we were able to identify the need to build a robust case of established use as a residential dwelling for our client. This enabled the property to be sold at full market value.

Example 4

A lady approached our team having been let down by 3 previous solicitors dealing with her case. Despite having been granted life tenancy of her home, our client was being harassed by the freeholders of her house who wanted her to vacate. She wished to buy a property of her own. We discovered that the property was held in the name of a particular company that had been struck off at Companies House. With no legal owner, the property was passed to the crown as an ownerless property (otherwise known as Bona Vacantia). This meant that the property could be sold to the life tenant at a heavily reduced price.

In Leasehold property transactions the terms of the lease will dictate any disbursements that may be payable at completion such as a fee for giving notice to the Landlord of a change in ownership or lender.

For guidance we set out a typical list of commonly encountered disbursements below. We will update you on the specific fees upon receipt and review of the lease from the seller's solicitors.

Notice of Charge fee (if the property is to be mortgaged) – this fee is set out in the lease or in any Leaseholder management pack provided by the freeholder/managing agent

Deed of Covenant fee – this fee is provided by the management company for the property and can be difficult to estimate. Often it is between £180-£360 inc VAT.

Certificate of Compliance fee (if required under the terms of the lease). This will be confirmed by the freeholder/managing agent, typically this can range between £180-£300 inc VAT.

Note 1: Stamp Duty Land Tax

You can calculate the amount you will need to pay by using HMRC's website <https://www.tax.service.gov.uk/calculate-stamp-duty-land-tax/#/> intro or if the property is located in Wales by using the Welsh Revenue Authority's website <https://gov.wales/land-transaction-tax-calculator>

Note 2: Land Registry Fees are calculated on a government scale a figure will be provided once the approximate value and type of the transaction are known these are calculated from the Land Registry website <https://landregistry.data.gov.uk/fees-calculator.html>

Note 3: Referral Fees. If you have been referred to us by an Estate Agent or other introducer of work, we will advise you of this and confirm to you in writing the financial arrangement we have with the introducer. Please be advised however that you will not be responsible for any referral fee payable as this is an overhead of the firm and paid by us.

How long will a Sale or Purchase typically take?

How long it will take from your offer being accepted until you can move into your house will depend on a number of factors. The average process takes between 6-12 weeks. It can be quicker or slower, depending on the number of parties in the chain.

For example, if you are a first time buyer, purchasing a new build property with a mortgage it could take 6-10 weeks or longer as completion is on notice (the developer will serve a notice giving a set period of time within which you must complete). However, if you are buying a leasehold property that requires an extension of the lease, this can take significantly longer, between 8-20 weeks. If we are instructed to handle the lease extension element of a transaction additional charges will apply.

In relation to a sale, the same criteria will apply. If there is a cash buyer then the sale may proceed quickly. Whereas if, for example, there is a long chain or a mortgage, the transaction may take significantly longer.

How long will a re-mortgage typically take?

In relation to a Freehold re-mortgage, this may take up to 4 weeks. If a Leasehold re-mortgage, then 4-8 weeks where a Leasehold Management Pack is required.
